RULE BROADCAST SYSTEMS

Since 1990, Rule Broadcast Systems has been providing production companies and producers with video and audio equipment needed for their projects. When Rule and Boston Camera Rental merged, they took their time to find and create a space that would perfectly suit their office and clients' needs.

Working within the confines of an existing building, Davis Square Architects teamed with Rule Broadcast to establish an efficient workflow through the showroom, offices, conference and workshop rooms, equipment storage spaces, testing and work areas, and staff support spaces. The result is a roomy 20,000 sf user-friendly space to check out and test the equipment, with the open floor plan and middle courtyard allowing natural daylight to fill the space. Rule Broadcast now has the room it needs to continue to give filmmakers, artists and storytellers access to the most current and appropriate equipment available. ■
